

Envío

Di

Anuncio

Nicaragua

Youth Gangs: A Cultural Prison

I loved myself as traitor, thief, stick-up man, informer, detestable, destructive, despicable, coward. With axe blows and shouts I severed the bonds that kept me in the world of regular morals, at... continuar...

Nicaragua

A Society Scandalized

The word "scandal" comes from the Greek word for stumbling block. To scandalize is literally to trip up, obstruct, hold back, although in more common usage it means to disgrace, shock, offend one's moral... continuar...

Nicaragua

NICARAGUA BRIEFS

POVERTY IN COLD NUMBERS According to the figures of a household survey done recently by the United Nations Development Program UNDP), only 50% of houses in Nicaragua have electricity and drinking... continuar...

Guatemala

Who Fishes Best in Troubled Waters?

The first two and a half months of President Alfonso Portillo's new government were characterized by remarkable inefficiency and punctuated by his own numerous personal and official trips. With lots... continuar...

México

On the Eve of the Elections: A Vote of Fear or a Vote for Change?

In these last weeks leading up to the July 2 presidential and congressional elections, the situation in Mexico has become very dangerous. The population has expressed a growing desire to see the presidency... continuar...

Internacional

Money Laundering and Investment: A Few Clues

Starting at the end of the 1960s, certain platforms for "dirty" money began to be set up in offshore tax havens and financial centers—the same countries that act as a base for the geographic expansion... continuar...

Envío offers information and analysis on Nicaragua from Nicaragua, on Central America from Central America, on the larger world we want to transform and on that other possible world we are working to bring about.

Revista Envío
Edificio Nitlapán,
2do. piso
Universidad
Centroamericana
UCA

Apartado A-194
Managua, Nicaragua

Telephone:
(505) 2782557

Fax:
(505) 2781402

Email:
info@envio.org.ni

Envío a monthly magazine of analysis on Central America
GüeGüe: Web Hosting and Development