

CONTENTS

WORLD LITERATURE TODAY

MAY – JUNE 2007

VOL. 81, NO. 3

66
WORLD
LITERATURE
IN REVIEW

“ King clearly writes stories of sensation and usually includes the supernatural, which is exactly why some mystery writers and readers have grumbled in private about his being granted Grandmaster status. ”
—Page 16

50

5 AUTHOR PROFILE / UNSCRIPTED
Introducing Jim Lehrer; an excerpt from Eureka, his forthcoming novel; and The NewsHour interview with Orhan Pamuk

10 ESSAY
Highlights from Orhan Pamuk's Nobel Prize acceptance speech

12 AUTHOR PROFILE
Gabriel García Márquez offers a personal retrospective on the life and work of Mercè Rodoreda

16 INTERNATIONAL CRIME & MYSTERY
J. Madison Davis reflects on Stephen King, literary underdog

20 TRAVEL
Greifswald, Germany
The Cape Town Book Fair

27 COVER FEATURE: CLARIBEL ALEGRÍA with contributions from
Sergio Ramírez
George Evans
Daisy Zamora
Maarten van Delden
Alexander Taylor
César Ferreira
José Juan Colín
William Clary
Judith Doyle
W. Nick Hill

50 ARTS & CULTURE
Barbara Zabel explores new paradigms in the work of Denise Green

57 POETRY / CURRENTS
Four poems by Luís Quintais, plus Martin Earl on “artifact and mimesis” in Quintais's poetry

63 CHILDREN'S LITERATURE
Walter Dean Myers discusses American jazz and the Harlem Renaissance

IN EVERY ISSUE

- 3 EDITOR'S NOTE
- 66 WORLD LITERATURE IN REVIEW
- 80 OUTPOSTS: THE ASIAN AMERICAN WRITERS' WORKSHOP

ON THE COVER
Claribel Alegría as photographed by Simon
Hurst for Shevaun
Williams Photography,
September 2006.

