

CONTENTS

Armando SALVATORE, Before (and After) the 'Arab Spring': From Connectedness to Mobilization in the Public Sphere	5-12
Dale EICKELMAN, Media, Homeland, and Community in Islamic and Area Studies: A Social History and Emerging Trends	13-22
Albrecht HOFHEINZ, Nextopia? Beyond Revolution 2.0	23-39
Eugenia SIAPERA, Bridge Bloggers in the Middle East	41-60
Charles HIRSCHKIND, From the Blogosphere to the Street: Social Media and the Egyptian Revolution	61-74
Teresa PEPE, From the Blogosphere to Bookshops: Publishing Literary Blogs in Egypt	75-90
Maha TAKI, Why Bloggers Blog in Lebanon and Syria? Methodological Considerations	91-103
Enrico DE ANGELIS, Syrian News Websites: A Negotiated Identity	105-124
Elisabetta COSTA, Online Journalism and Political Activism in Lebanon	125-138
Sarah JURKIEWICZ, Of Islands and Windows – Publicness in the Lebanese Blogosphere	139-155